Failure to adhere to the uniform policy results in a structured consequence system. Initially, students will receive a verbal warning and notification to their parents. Repeated infractions will lead to further disciplinary measures, including detention, parent-teacher conferences, and potential suspension from school activities. The strict enforcement of this policy underscores the school's commitment to maintaining a conducive learning environment.

GIS reserves the right to require students to purchase new uniforms if the uniforms they have are not in good condition. Any student who is not in proper and clean uniform may be sent home, or parents may be asked to bring correct/clean uniforms to school.
